NEVADA'S ENTRIES FOR HALL OF FAME

TWENTY-TWO RESIDENTS OF THIS STATE IN THE WHO'S WHO CLASS

Nevada possesses twenty-two eligibles to the hall of fame, and three of them are Tonopahns. This is the decision rendered by "Who's Who in America," a biographical dictionary of the notable living men and women of the United States, a standard authority and one that does not accept biographies as paid matter, as has been the case with certain local "Who-Who" books, but the men and women are searched out by the authors and their biographies appear even without their knowledge in most instances. Unhappily this work does not name any of the women of distinction in Nevada, but their turn may come later. They may even edit a biographical dictionary themselves in course of time.

The list of Nevada notables in this state follows:

Jewett W. Adams, former governor of the state; George A. Bartlett, former congressman, Carson; Edward S. Farrington, United States district judge, Carson; Frank H. Norcross, supreme court justice and writer; Tasker L. Oddie, mining man and former governor, Reno and Tonopah; Samuel Platt, lawyer and former United States district attorney and recent candidate for the United States senate, Carson; Edwin E. Roberts, congressman, Carson; James G. Sweeney, former chief justice, Carson; George D. Talbot, former chief justice, Elko; W. Penn. Cresson, fellow of the Royal Geographical society, writer, diplomat, Elko; George Russell, cattle raiser, Elko; Dr. James E. Church, Jr., university professor, Reno; B. F. Cunningham, physician, Reno; Samuel B. Doten, entomologist, Reno; Peter Frandsen, biologist, Reno; S. C. Gibson, surgeon, Reno; L. W. Hartman, university professor, Reno; Francis G. Newlands, senator, Reno; George Wingfield, mining man, Reno; Hugh H. Brown, lawyer, Tonopah; Key Pittman, United States senator, Tonopah; Clay Tailman, commissioner of the United States land office, Tonopah.

In addition to this list there is T. F. Dunaway, railroad manager, removed from the state, and President Stubbs and Senator Nixon and Senator Massey, deceased.

FLORENCE HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

PLAN OF RESUMING SINKING IN BIG MAIN SHAFT IS HELD UP

The stockholders of the Florence Goldfield Mining company, at their annual meeting Monday morning at the company offices in Goldfield, voted to postpone for a period of sixty days action upon the plan of sinking the main working shaft on the property, now down 1,270 feet, to the latite-shale contact, estimated to lie at a depth of 2,000 feet. A. D. Parker, S. G. Aracott and John S. Macbeth, all of Denver, Colo., and J. K. Turner of Goldfield, were re-elected directors. D. B. Keeler of Fort Worth, Tex., president of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad, was elected a director, succeeding Thomas G. Lockhart, deceased, says the Goldfield Tribune.

In his report to the stockholders, President Parker, in commenting upon the death of Mr. Lockhart, says: "It is with sorrow that we record the loss of Thomas G. Lockhart, who died on June 19, 1914. He was identified with the company from its very first development until his death and was a prominent figure in all the mining operations in southern Nevada. He was the first president of your company and remained in that office until July 15, 1910, when, at his own request, he became vice-president, which office he held until his death."

According to the report of President Parker, the mine produced last year 8,028.59 tons of ore of the gross value of $211,859.44, which with miscellaneous earnings of $1,104.94 made a total revenue of $212,964.38. Operating costs totaled $140,427.76.

STORM CENTERED SOUTH OF TONOPAH

MORE SNOW FELL AT GOLDFIELD THAN IS RECORDED AT MANHATTAN

The storm, which has continued for the past two days, has already produced .57 of an inch of water, with about 9 inches of snow now on the ground. This is the heaviest snowfall of the season and a number of sleighs were on the streets today, while the small boys are preparing courses for sledding. A feature of the storm was the lack of wind after the precipitation began, giving the ground a uniform covering. The ground was not frozen and there will be little runoff, the soil absorbing the water, so that it will do the most good. Old timers forecast that this will result in a wealth of desert flowers this spring, while the range feed will doubtless be better than in years.

Reports from Manhattan this morning are that only eight inches fell there, while a telephone message from Goldfield reports that there is a foot of snow on the ground and still falling. This evidences that the center of the storm, which was generally from the west, passed to the southward from Tonopah.

SIMMERONE OWNERS VISITING TONOPAH

SHAFT WILL BE SUNK TO LATITE AND CROSSCUT RUN TO LEDGE

Walter Trent, H. C. Cutler and Gurney Gordon arrived this morning from Reno. Mr. Gordon continuing on to Goldfield. They are here on business connected with the Simmerone Consolidated Mines company of Goldfield, which property they recently purchased from the Nevada National bank of Tonopah. The new owners will begin work at once and will at first use the present equipment to sink 200 feet deeper, which is expected to bring them well within the latite, when they will crosscut for the ledge found on the 250 level. The stock has been listed on the San Francisco exchange and will be called tomorrow for the first time.

WORKING WOMEN OPPOSED TO BILL

TELEGRAPHER ASKS THAT NEVADA LAWMAKER ACT JUSTLY TOWARD THEM

When the eight-hour bill for women was introduced, the Bonanza opposed it, believing that it would work hardship upon employed women and serve only for a little lime light to be turned in the direction of certain labor agitators. This point is proven by the following communication addressed to the editor of the Gazette:

It has come to the time where women telegraphers must have protection. In behalf of the women telegraphers of the State of Nevada, I earnestly propose we form the Telegraphers' Protective association, without delay, to protect ourselves from future proposed laws that may be forced upon us by agitation.

The telegraphers are, as a matter of fact, peaceful and level headed; not seeking to do harm or force hardships on others and attending exclusively to their own affairs. But when the question of the eight-hour law for women is forced upon us, we must have a voice in the matter. There are few positions in the state of Nevada for telegraphers, and there would be fewer if this eight-hour bill should become a law.

As to us, who are familiar with the business conditions of the state, we know this eight-hour law for women would work the utmost hardship upon the women telegraphers and the majority of the working women of the state of Nevada. I also feel it our duty to take this matter up with our sister operators in California who are appealing to us for help. We know the situation as it exists since the eight-hour law was forced upon them before they had time to consider the effect or protest. There must be some action taken to relieve this situation for our sister operators and it is up to us to protect ourselves and leave no stones unturned to form this protective association for their good and our own and protest against unfair legislation.

We consider the eight-hour law for women unfair, unjust, uncalled for, absolutely unnecessary and not asked for, so far as we are concerned. "Peace" is a beautiful motto at this matter. This new division line has been strongly favored by the Nevada Press association and meets with the approval of practically all the residents of California on the eastern slope of the Sierras.

By the vote of President Sullivan of the senate, the salary of the attorney-general, as ex-officio mineral land examiner, was cut yesterday the vote standing 11 to 11 and the presiding officer voting for the measure. Senator Fulmer entered a protest, claiming that the lieutenant-governor was not entitled to vote in the matter.

The bill prohibiting fraternities in public schools was reported unfavorably. Senator Harrington today introduced a bill providing for a commission form of government for municipalities and a board of freeholders.

Senator Babcock also introduced today a bill providing for the short ballot and also one providing for only one house of legislature. It is expected that a new primary bill will be introduced before the week is out. The governor's referendum measure was defeated yesterday afternoon by a vote of 7 to 15 in the senate. A bill to abolish the state fish commission has been introduced by Senator Thatcher. The bill creates a state fish and game warden at a salary of $1,800 a year and deputyship at $1,000 a year. The sheriff in each county will be deputy warden and his compensation will be 20 percent of the licenses collected.

After March 8 no more bills will be introduced in the senate without unanimous consent, excepting the general appropriation bill, which probably will be introduced on the last day of the session by the ways and means committee. The senate adopted a resolution Saturday shutting off further introduction of bills after that date. The resolution was offered by Fulmer, chairman of the ways and means committee, and was not opposed.

It is probable the assembly will adopt a similar resolution this week. Although both files were cleared Saturday there are many bills in committees and many predict night sessions by the first of next week.

TROUBLE CAUSED FOR ATTRACTION

FORTY-NINE CAMP AT PANAMA-PACIFIC FAIR CLOSED BY POLICE

The closing down of Sam Davis' Forty-nine Camp at the Panama-Pacific exposition has proven one of the thrilling features of the big fair thus far. As a well known Nevada is at the head of this concession, the shutting up of the doors, and the causes leading up thereto, are eagerly inquired into, particularly by Nevadans.

It seems that there were not enough dance hall girls to keep one of the major attractions busy and the management advertised for some additions to the ranks. As a result a bunch of chorus girls and women entertainers from various resorts responded and were put to work. They were not skilled in dance hall work and imbibed too heavily for their weak constitutions and, under the influence of ardent spirits, they behaved in rather unseemly manner. Furthermore, the "imitation" gambling games were run in somewhat too realistic a manner and this occasioned further dissatisfaction. It was also claimed by some of the visitors that the "placer mine" was quite raw. As a result the police closed up the attraction, which will be made over on a different system before it is reopened.

STILL CROSSING TO THE FOOTWALL

ENRICHMENT IN MONARCH PITTSBURG NOW SHOWS ITSELF IN BUNCHES

The crosscut in the Monarch Pittsburg is now in between 75 and 80 feet from the hanging wall and is still in the vein. This does not mean that this is the distance traversed at right angles to both the dip and strike, for the ledge is rather flat and the crosscut hit it at an acute angle, later turning to 90 degrees.

Mine Superintendent Smith does not know how much further he will have to go to get the foot, but he says it looks as though it would be easier to go down in the '76 and crosscut for it. The ore is now occurring in bunches, not that the ledge is crushed, but the enrichment appears to be irregular.

BUTLER THEATER

A very interesting program has been arranged for the Butler this evening, consisting of four reels as follows: A Biograph split-reel with two comedies—"Red Dye" and "A Natural Mistake," an Edison drama, "The Man Who Vanished," adapted from the famous Felix Boyd series, "Below the Deadline;" the picture shows a daring plot to blow up the vault of the Trinity Trust company, which is unraveled and "the man who vanished" is the master criminal who made good his escape. It is a thrilling picture. This picture is to be shown in place of "The Navajo Ring," which was booked for today, but did not arrive owing to a misconnection. The program concludes with "The Mystery of the Lost Ships," seventh episode of "Zudora," the Thanhouse serial story. Tomorrow, a feature program including Francis X. Bushman, Sidney Drew and Pathe Weekly, Saturday "413"—Broadway star feature. Next week, Master Fred Locke, a wonderful soprano singer, will be an added attraction at the Butler.—Adv.
